

SSRG Completes Majority Acquisition of Sirius Security Services

Whitehorse, Yukon (November 19, 2022).

Scarlet Security & Risk Group (SSRG) is pleased to announce its majority acquisition of Yukon's long-time local provider, Sirius Security Services. The transaction is effective today. All staff and management will continue in their current roles and work alongside SSRG's group of professionals and subject matter experts.

This exciting and mutually beneficial joining of two long term northern companies creates an equity partnership and has been a long time in the making. All involved parties have spent considerable time to ensure mission, vision, values, and cultures are fully aligned.

The acquisition further expands SSRG's remote northern operations, adding a team, office, and current operations in the Yukon region. It also adds major expertise and capacity to Sirius Security's current offerings.

SSRG CEO Patrick Doyle commented, "Sirius Security is a well-known long term Yukon company that I am proud to be a part of. I'm excited to see us continue to expand our joint capabilities and further improve the quality and depth of our service to our northern customers."

He went on to say "Northern Canada is our home and we are excited to continue to build on that focus and legacy. With this acquisition and the merger of our teams, we are in an enviable position in the Yukon to respond to the current and future needs in our sector while maximizing local impact and benefits."

Sirius Security Services founder Sonny Gray commented "Sirius Security is pleased to become a part of the Northern legacy that is SSRG. A partnership built on years of mutual respect and friendship, we have no doubts that Sirius Security, under the majority ownership of SSRG, will not only maintain its current reputation of quality service and professionalism, but will build upon those values and ethics and set the standard for Security across the North."
